The New York Police Decreon.—The police case recently decided in the Naw York Cont of Appeals immediately affects the case of but one policeman, whose name was accidentally omitted from an order removing the old police (but adopted without anotheral, on written charges, as the law required), and is thought to differ, in other respects, from that of the old policemen in general. Had arways full pay for the last two years. The others will not, probably, be paid (their claims making an aggregate of near a million dollars) without a further legal contest. The principles laid down, howaver, would seem to cover every case.

A gentleman of Concennati Informs us that great excitoment prevailed at Cincinnati, principally among the Irish, awing to the action of the l'elice Commissioners, who re-appointed all the old police force. A law passed the Ohio Legislature, creating a board of Police Commi sioners, of which the board, the power to fill them is conferred on the Mayor, Polica Judge, and Anditor. The original appointees, who were all Democrata, resigned, and a letter of the Loutsville Journal:

the Mayor is Precident. In case of vacancies in the board, the power to fill them is conferred on the Mayor, Police Jadge, and Anditor. The original appointees, who were all Democrata, resigned, and the Police Jadge and Anditor, who belong to the same party, filled the vacancie; thy appointing five and men all Democrata also, the Mayor refusing to act is the premises, because le considered the law of the Laglalature unconstitutional, and the action of the Jadge and Anditor not la accordance with its provisions. This new board, on Saturday, reappointed all the old incumbents, and bence the Indignation of the Irish, who composed the principal portion of the new applicants, and considered them solves antitled to the offices for services rendered to the party.

The new law is, however, generally condemned by both parties. The new Mayor, who goes into office to day, we believe, has determined, we understand, not to pay any attention to the new law, list will make his appointments regardless of its provisions.
